THE INTERNATIONAL MARCÉ SOCIETY FOR PERINATAL MENTAL HEALTH

You are very welcome to the first International Marcé Society Conference to be held in Wales.

We hope you will feel at home and be stimulated and inspired during the next 3 days by the eclectic mix of science, research and development. We have 16 Ambassadors on hand to help you with any questions you may have. They are all PhD students, so will be efficient and knowledgeable!!

Please feel free to make use of the café facilities around the campus. The beach is across the road, so if we have good weather you might like to take a swim. The park is situated at the rear of the Taliesin. Please find the map with all the facilities on campus, enclosed in this pack.

Events

On Wednesday night, ‘The Stranger In Me’ film will be shown in the Taliesin Theatre.

The Conference Gala Dinner will be held in Fulton House on Thursday evening.

On Friday night, The Closing Ceremony will be held in Taliesin Theatre and those who have booked excursions will visit Rhossili Bay or Oystermouth Castle afterwards.

Here are a few Welsh phrases for you to practice:

- ‘Bore da’ (pronounced - buray daaa) – “Good morning!”
- ‘Diolch’ (pronounced - deolchhh!) – “Thank you”
- ‘Shymae?’ (pronounced - shoemeye) – “How are you?”
- ‘Os gwelwch yn dda’ (pronounced - oss gwellwooch un thaaa) – “Please”

If you have any specific questions please contact, in the first instance, an Ambassador or Conference Organiser (identified by t-shirts!)

“Croeso I Gymru” Welcome to Wales!

With my very best wishes,

Jane Hanley
President of the International Marcé Society
THE INTERNATIONAL MARCÉ SOCIETY

CONFERENCE OBJECTIVES

1. To promote and gain a greater understanding of behavioural and neuro sciences and the impact on perinatal mental health
2. Examine the diversity of international interventions and explore the efficacy of these and application to research and practice
3. Network with colleagues from across the globe to share research ideas, develop practice and enhance existing ideas
4. Create change in perinatal mental health to ensure every mother and her infant has access to the best possible care

Professor Iwan Davies, Pro-Vice Chancellor for Swansea University

Professor Davies will open the conference.

Professor Davies holds the Hodge Chair in Law at the University. He was educated at the University College of Wales Aberystwyth and Jesus College Cambridge. In 1980 he took a lectureship in Commercial Law at Cardiff and following a sabbatical period at the University of Saskatoon, Saskatchewan was awarded a senior lectureship at Cardiff University. In 1995 he was called to the Bar as a distinguished academic scholar and four years later was awarded a personal chair of Swansea University when he also assumed headship of the newly formed Law Department. In 2005 he became Head of the School of Law which by then had expanded to include professional legal education and a pro bono law clinic. In 2007 he was appointed Pro-Vice-Chancellor (Internationalisation and External Affairs). He currently leads on a major development for the University which involves the creation of a new £300m Science and Innovation Campus.

Professor Davies is Adjunct Professor of International Commercial Law at the World Maritime University, Malmo, Sweden. He is the Chair of the UK Finance and Leasing Association Business Code Monitoring Group and was special advisor to the Wales Select Committee of the House of Commons. He is the immediate past chairman of the Standing Committee for Legal Wales. He was a Commissioner of the UK Debt Commission and is a member of the Board of Trustees, Hamlyn Lecture Series. He has advised government and international government organisations on various international commercial law themes.

Co-founder of Sangath, a community based NGO in India. Fellow of the UK’s Academy of Medical Sciences and serves on the WHO’s Expert Advisory Group for Mental Health and the Technical Steering Committee of the Department of Child & Adolescent Health, the World Economic Forum Global Agenda Council on Mental Health and Well-Being, and the Mental Health Policy Group of the Ministry of Health, Government of India.

Professor Patel’s areas of research expertise are global mental health and contributing to the goal of improving access to mental health care and promoting the human rights of people with mental disorders worldwide.
Professor Marie-Paul Austin

Professor Marie-Paule Austin is a mother of two. She is the St John of God Chair of Perinatal and Women’s Mental Health at the University of New South Wales, Sydney; director of the Burwood mother-baby unit; and Head of Perinatal Mental Health at the Royal Hospital for Women, Sydney. She has an international reputation in the translation of research findings to policy and practice as evidenced by her leadership of the Australian beyondblue Perinatal Mental Health National Action Plan (2008) and Clinical Practice Guidelines (2011); and the 2013 International Marce Society Position Statement on psychosocial assessment and depression screening in perinatal women.

Professor Austin is a chief investigator on a number of clinical and epidemiological studies in the field of Perinatal mood disorders and the developmental origins of health and disease; is currently leading an NHMRC study evaluating the impact and of the Australian National Perinatal Depression Initiative on service uptake across Australia; and a collaborator on a number of Canadian CIHR grants. She has authored over 100 peer reviewed articles.

Professor Jane Barlow

Professor of Public Health in the Early Years Warwick University, Director of Warwick Infant and Family Wellbeing Unit, Honorary Fellow of the Faculty of Public Health, President of the UK Association of Infant Mental Health, Chair of the Local Organising Committee for the World Association of Infant Mental Health. Collaborator with the International Preventing Violence across the Lifespan (PreVAiL) Research Network.

Professor Barlow’s areas of research expertise are the role of early parenting, evaluation of early interventions aimed at improving parenting practices and reducing the risk of child maltreatment, particularly during pregnancy and the postnatal period.

Professor John Cox

Professor Emeritus of Psychiatry at Keele University and a Visiting Professor at the University of Gloucestershire. Co-founder of the Faith, Science and Values Centre. Professor Cox has an established international reputation in the fields of Perinatal Mental Disorder, Transcultural Psychiatry and International Public Health. He is a Past President of the Royal College of Psychiatrists and Secretary General of the World Psychiatric Association. He was one of the founder members of the Marcé Society.

Professor Cox’s areas of expertise are ethics and boundaries between Religion, Science and Medical Practice. He has been profoundly influenced by the writings of Paul Tournier.
Professor Louise Howard

Recipient of the prestigious Marcé Medal.

Louise Howard is Professor & Head of the Section of Women’s Mental Health at the Institute of Psychiatry, King’s College London, and the Academic Women’s Health Centre KCL, and an Honorary Consultant Perinatal Psychiatrist at the South London and Maudsley NHS Foundation Trust. She was an undergraduate at University College London medical school where she did an intercalated BSc in psychology while a medical student, and then worked in internal medicine gaining the Membership of the Royal College of Physicians before training in psychiatry at the Maudsley Hospital. She was subsequently awarded a Wellcome Trust research fellowship during which she gained an MSc in epidemiology at the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine and a PhD which focused on the outcomes of pregnancy in women with psychotic disorders. Her research has been funded by the Wellcome Trust, MRC, ESRC, the National Institute for Health Research (NIHR), Tommys the baby charity, and several other charitable trusts, and she has also recently been awarded an NIHR Research Professorship. She is currently Chief Investigator of an NIHR Programme Grant for Applied Research on the effectiveness of perinatal mental health services; other current research programmes include an NIHR funded study on antipsychotics in pregnancy, an MRC funded PhD studentship on obesity and mental health in pregnancy, an NIHR research programme into domestic violence and mental health, and a DH Policy Research Programme on how the NHS can optimize its response to trafficked people. She currently chairs the NICE Guideline Development Group (update) on Antenatal and Postnatal Mental Health, and was a member of the WHO guideline development group on the healthcare response to violence against women (published 2013), and more recently the NICE/SCIE guideline development group on prevention and reduction of domestic violence (published 2014).

Dr Hamish McAllister-Williams

Honorary Consultant Psychiatrist, Regional Affective Disorders Service, Northumberland Tyne and Wear NHS Foundation Trust, Reader in Clinical Psychopharmacology, Newcastle University. European College of Neuropsychopharmacology Committee member.

Dr McAllister – Williams’ areas of research expertise are HPA and the serotonergic system in cognition and the pathophysiology and treatment of mood disorders. The use of electroencephalographic techniques for exploring brain function following cognitive and pharmacological challenge.

Dr Lynne Murray

Research Professor in Developmental Psychopathology at the Universities of Reading, UK, and Stellenbosch, South Africa. Professor Murray areas of expertise are the effects of adversity (postnatal depression and anxiety, poverty), and infant vulnerability (early temperamental difficulty, cleft lip), on mother-infant interactions and child development.
Jennie Muskett

Jennie Muskett has lived in London, South Africa and LA and has established an international reputation as a composer for film and television, having written scores for Miramax, Paramount, Disney, IMAX, the BBC and many more. Throughout her career, she has explored her fascination with creating empathy through music.

Muskett trained at the Royal College of Music in London and soon after began a career as a cellist, playing for several named UK orchestras. Her composing career began when she was invited to write the music for a natural history documentary which, in turn, spurred further commissions in this genre. She worked for production companies such as National Geographic, Discovery, the BBC and IMAX. Inevitably Muskett’s documentary work has earned her 2 Emmys and 5 Emmy nominations.

She has also composed many high profile TV scores, including the critically acclaimed BBC film, Miss Austen Regrets (2008) and Compulsion starring Ray Winston. Muskett has also been awarded 2 BAFTA nominations for her scores for the series Spooks, for which she also composed the theme, and the mini-series The State Within received two Golden Globe nominations.

Over the years Muskett has made her mark in Hollywood as a composer of major studio films and television projects, and most recently has arranged and produced several recording projects, including the album “Boys Don’t Cry” for Atlantic Records’ artist Rumer.

She has recently taken an extended sabbatical from her career in order to explore her interest in the benefits of music for babies and mothers during the perinatal period.

Professor Steve Suomi

Stephen J. Suomi, Ph.D. is Chief of the Laboratory of Comparative Ethology at the Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD), National Institutes of Health (NIH) in Bethesda, Maryland. Dr. Suomi earned his B.A. in psychology at Stanford University in 1968, and his M.A. and Ph.D. in psychology at the University of Wisconsin-Madison in 1969 and 1971, respectively. He then joined the Psychology faculty at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, where he attained the rank of Professor before moving to the NICHD in 1983. Dr. Suomi’s present research at the NICHD focuses on 3 general issues: the interaction between genetic and environmental factors in shaping individual developmental trajectories, the issue of continuity vs. change and the relative stability of individual differences at multiple levels of analysis throughout development, and the degree to which findings from monkeys studied in captivity generalize not only to monkeys living in the wild but also to humans living in different cultures.

Throughout his professional career Dr. Suomi has been the recipient of numerous awards and honors, the most recent of which include the Donald O. Hebb Award and a Presidential Citation from the American Psychological Association, the Distinguished Primatologist Award from the American Society of Primatologists, and the Arnold Pfeiffer Prize from the International Society of Neuropsycranalysis. To date, he has authored or co-authored over 450 articles published in scientific journals and chapters in edited volumes.
Professor Graham Thornicroft

Professor of Community Psychiatry, Institute of Psychiatry, King’s College London, Consultant Psychiatrist, South London & Maudsley NHS Foundation Trust, Director, King’s Improvement Science, King’s Health Partners, Visiting Professor at Columbia University, New York, and Universities of KwaZulu-Natal and Verona

Professor Thornicroft’s areas of research expertise are stigma and discrimination, mental health needs assessment, the development of outcome scales, service user involvement in mental health research, cost-effectiveness evaluation of mental health treatments, implementation/improvement science, mental health services in low income countries, health systems strengthening and global mental health.

Mark Williams

Founder of the website www.fathersreachingout.com, which offers support to fathers whose wives or partners are suffering from postnatal depression. Mark has been awarded several prestigious awards for his inspirational work.
Housekeeping

Laundrette
There are two laundrettes on campus - one in Kilvey Residence and the other in Cefn Bryn Residence. The laundrette in Kilvey is open 24 hours a day. The Cefn Bryn laundrette is open from 6am until approximately 8pm. They both have coin-operated washing machines and tumble dryers – £2.00 per wash and £1 per dry. Please note you will need to supply your own washing powder. For access issues, please report to Preseli Reception desk. Any faults should be reported by using the free phone number displayed in the laundrette.

Smoking Policy & Naked Flames
In accordance with the National Assembly for Wales’ Smoke-free premises etc. (Wales) regulations 2007, smoking is not permitted in any enclosed or substantially enclosed public space. Smoking is not permitted in any University building, at building entrances, along the Mall or within 5 metres of any building. (The Mall begins at the west end of the Faraday Building and ends at the Abbey Building). This policy applies to staff, students and visitors. Incense, candles, or any open/naked flames are not permitted within the accommodation or anywhere on campus.

Emergency Procedures

Emergency Calls
The University emergency telephone number is 333. This number is used for all emergencies on University property. Monday- Friday, 09.00-17.30, your call will be answered by the Switchboard who will contact the Emergency Services and connect your call to them, monitor your call and assist if necessary. At all other times, your call will be answered by Security in Fulton House, who will contact the appropriate Emergency Service. When you call 333, be prepared to supply information about your location and details of the emergency e.g. building, floor number, room number, fire. When you call 333, whoever answers the call will also carry out other duties to manage the emergency, such as phoning the main gate to inform staff where to direct the emergency services and contacting Occupational Health Unit. Calling 999 will mean that the University is not alerted of the emergency and therefore cannot make the necessary calls to the main gate. For this reason, we ask that you call 333 wherever possible. If this is not possible and you call 999, please ensure that a further phone call is made to Security (01792 205678) as soon as possible, to report the emergency.

Emergency Fire Procedure
a) During an evacuation Fire Wardens will, without putting themselves at risk, ensure that the areas under their control have been cleared.
b) Porters/security staff will attend a fire call to assist with evacuation and building security.
c) A role call will be carried out by staff for the Campus Halls at night.
d) Anybody who has important information regarding the fire or persons injured or trapped must report to the fire brigade on arrival.
e) Building occupants may only re-enter when given permission by the fire service or the most senior University representative present. Silencing of the alarm is not an indication that building occupants are allowed to return.
A University Fire Action Sign is located by every manual alarm call point
